ACTIVE INGREDIENT DEFINITIONS AND BENEFITS

ALOE VERA is a botanical moisturizer, light tonic, skin protectant and humectant.

HYALURONIC ACID forms a protective breathable barrier on the skin locking in moisture to give the skin a youthful appearance. Escent Skin uses only USA vegan sources of Hyaluronic acid. The level of Hyaluronic Acid found naturally in human tissue diminishes as we age. Because Hyaluronic Acid can hold 1000x times its weight in water, it adjusts its moisture absorption based on the humidity in the air depending on the relative humidity of seasons and climate.

OAT SEED is an anti-depressant, antispasmodic, demulcent, nervine, nutritive, stimulant, tonic. Oats are a very soothing herb to use in the case of skin irritations. Oats have been used in facial and body scrubs, soaps and lotions for years, and have been proven to help heal acne.

SILK PROTEIN AMINO ACID BLEND Without amino acids the skin simply cannot function properly. These selected amino acids are essential to healthy skin. These are exactly the same amino acids found in collagen and elastin. Each amino acid is made from plant sources and is painstakingly purified. Amino acids are the main moisture retention factors in human skin. Topical application of amino acids has shown to dramatically increase moisture content while decreasing visible lines. In addition, amino acids help in the production of collagen and elastin, regulate sebaceous gland activity and decrease discoloration.

BORAGE OIL an acting emollient and is best known for its ability to soften, soothe, and re-condition the skin. Emollient; moisturizer; ointment base; botanical. Considered useful for sensitive skin.

ROSE HIP SEED OIL is truly an amazing product, which has only recently become recognized by the general public. This surge in popularity is for a good reason, as it is believed to be the best oil available for anti-ageing and skin rejuvenation. Numerous scientific studies have also taken place, which have yielded astounding evidence supporting the use of Rosehip Seed oil.
